How to get Córdoba? Important: Córdoba has not Airport.

You can travel by using Seville Airport, Madrid Airport or Málaga Airport (also Barcelona, but it is much farer) following the next different options:

- If you arrive to Seville Airport, you can take a taxi to “Santa Justa Railway Station” (about 20 min), then you will travel to Córdoba by AVE train (40 min).

- If you arrive to Málaga Airport, you can take a taxi (about 20 min) or a connecting train to “María Zambrano Railway Station” (around 30 min), then you will travel to Córdoba by AVE train (50 min).

- If you arrive to Madrid Airport, you can take a taxi to “Atocha Renfe Railway Station” (about 30 min) or the underground Line 8 to Nuevos Ministerios, then Line 6 to Cuatro Caminos and finally Line 1 to “Atocha Renfe Railway Station” (nearly 90 min: there are more options, but this is the shortest), then you will travel to Córdoba by AVE train (1h and 50 min). See next slides for connections from Airport (Terminals T1, T2, T3 and T4) to the underground, and to see the Madrid Underground Network.

- If you arrive to Barcelona Airport, you can take a taxi (about 30 min) or a connecting train to “Barcelona Sants Railway Station” (about 25 min), then you will travel to Córdoba by AVE train (about 4,5 hours).
